

What you are witnessing is the tip of the iceberg. Americans are enraged. They feel the election and the country are being stolen before their eyes. This is a result of the evidence of election fraud not being investigated by anyone in authority who is objective. The evidence needs to be heard and dealt with honestly.